

Participant Feedback

Words to describe the course

Participants described the instructors as clear well-prepared, experts in their fields, and easily accessible both during and after their respective modules

100%
of participants
would attend
another ASGCT course

I do hope this is the start of many more such engagements, and I look forward to participating.

- Participants rated overall experience as 4.65, with 5 being very positive
- Participants rated preparedness to apply what they learned to their work as 4, with 5 being very prepared
- When asked if the course increased their understanding of the topics, participants rated the course a 4.66 out of 5

Future Opportunities

Given the overwhelmingly positive feedback from the participants, ASGCT will continue to grow this program. In future courses, participants said they'd like to learn more about the basics of gene therapy and its practical applications in low-resource settings. ASGCT will incorporate this feedback and fine tune the course to better meet the needs of participants in sub-Saharan Africa. Additionally, ASGCT will continue to develop partners in other regions of the world, offering a course focused on clinical development in India in 2023. Contact skay@asgct.org for more information!